THE LATE HON. MR. LAU CHU PAR. J.P., C.M.G.

As the successful career of the Late Hon. Mr. Lau Chu Par may be an encouragement and an inspiration to every poor youth, the author has endeavoured to collect the materials and write this biography.

The late Hon. Lau Chu Par was a native of the Bo On district in Kwangtung Province. He was born in Hongkong in 1856 and was gifted with a high talent for learning. As his parents were so poor, they were compelled to send their child to study in a free school in West Point. His father died, when he was only twelve years old. He had a very good mother who realized that a higher education was necessary to her child and tried her best to send him to the Queen's College.

As the late Hon. Mr. Lau was a good and obedient son, he understood that the school fee he paid was obtained by his mother's hand works, he made his hardest efford in studying. Consequently, he was always stood first in his class and was much praised by his teachers and school mates. The bounties and prizes he received every year from the college were sufficient to cover his school fee, and thus he lightened the burden of grief of his mother.

After he had been graduated from Queen's College at the age of seventeen, he began, at once, to give his efficient and trustworthy services to his community. He held many appointments and served on many committees. It is hard to give a complete list of them here. However, a few of important ones must be mentioned. He was chairman of the Tung Wah Hospital; Member of committee of Po Leung Kuk; Member of committee of the Hongkong District Watchmen; member of the Sanitary Board (Now Urban Council) and member of the legislative council of the Hongkong Government. He was also made as an official in the Ching Danasty.

He died in 1922 at the age of fifty six.
