Mr. KWOK CHUN SHING.

A.A., A.R.I.P.H., F.COM.S.C.A., F.C.I.

Mr. Kwok is a native of Chungshan District, Kwangtung Province, who is the Founder & Director of the Chun-Shing Institute of Commerce, Hongkong. Having obtained a fair knowledge at his town, he proceeded to Shanghai and continued his studies in the Ling Nam College, where he stayed until was graduated.

He began his commercial career in a famous business concern in Shanghai. Late in 1928, he had a tour throughout North and South China to investigate education and industry. Realising the depression of trade would soon be spread to the Orient, Mr. Kwok, since that time, had a firm decision to establish an institute of commercial subjects, where pupils may be trained with a technical profession before they start to face the depression.

In 1929, he established the Chun-Shing Institute of Commerce in Hongkong. At the beginning, he was little sympathized by the public and he had but six students. This weak start would have disappointed most people. But Mr. Kwok had the optimistic foresight that he could not fail if he tried hard. So he did, notwithstanding bad circumstances and the handful number of students. In the following year, the number of students increased rapidly and at present the institute is considered to be one of the up-to-date Commercial Institutes in the Colony, and its testimonials are well recognised amongst local banking and business concerns.

Mr. Kwok Chun Shing is also deeply interested in the social affairs and is now holding various positions in different Associations of the Colony.
